

HOLDS CONSTABLE SHOULD GIVE BOND

Ruling of County Attorney Causes Commissioners to Withhold Appointment of Several

TO INVESTIGATE FURTHER

Question of Legality of Appointments of Horse Thief Detective Members is Raised

The county board of commissioners will not appoint constables recommended by the Rush county company of the Horse Thief Detective association, unless they provide a bond of $1,000. This will be the policy of the board for the present at least.

This decision was reached by the board Monday afternoon, at the regular monthly meeting of the board, in withholding appointment of a large number of members of the association whose names were submitted by W. H. McMillin, president, and Frank Sample, secretary, of the Rush county company.

The commissioners took this action on the advice of T. M. Green, county attorney and legal advisor of the board, who held that a constable was amenable to the law, regardless of whether he was elected or appointed. A constable who is elected is compelled by law to provide $1,000 bond and the county attorney decided that the same law should apply to constables who are appointed.

It will be the policy of the commissioners not to appoint constables unless they can provide $1,000 bond until they are advised differently by the county attorney, who is said to have told the board that he would investigate the matter further.

Whether appointments of constables already serving without bond will be withdrawn, is not known, but it is thought that the commissioners will await final word from the county attorney before taking any action along this line.

There are approximately 180 constables who have received their appointments from the Rush county board of commissioners on recommendation of the officers of the Rush county company of the Horse Thief Detective association, which has close to 400 members. Not all of the members of the company who have been appointed constables are residents of Rush county, but constables thus appointed have been instructed that their authority is not limited to Rush county, but may be invoked any place in Indiana.

COUNTY'S QUOTA 6 FOR TRAINING CAMP

Only Three Boys So Far Have Applied For Month's Trip At Citizens Training Camp

MINIMUM AGE IS 17 YEARS

Three more Rush county young men can still make application for the Citizens' Military training camp, according to Will B. Brann of this city, who is county chairman, and has the application blanks for those who are interested. The camp will be held at Camp Knox, Ky., beginning the last of July and extending for a month.

The government pays all expenses of the summer training, and a ruling has been made on the age limit for young boys that may be accepted.

Robert L. Collins, adjutant general has written Mr. Brann a letter in which he sets out that the minimum age limit for entrance in the C. M. T. has been defined as 17, and that the youth of that age must have attained the physical, mental and moral development of a person of that age.

The rule also sets out that applications from boys who will not be 17 until September, October, November or December, that they will be eligible to attend camp.

Rush county's quota for the camp is six, and so far only three have been selected.

STREET OILING IS BEGUN

City Forces Busy Today Spread The "Grease" On Streets

The street oiling began this morning in the city, and in about ten days the entire city will be "greased" for the summer. The city council will probably not buy as much oil as formerly as some of the streets are not in need of oil as much as last year. The oil comes in tank cars, equipped with steam coil pipes, and steam is placed through the tank, heating the oil before it is placed on the streets.

The work, as usual is being done by the city, and with the oiling machinery purchased several years ago, doing away with the expense of hiring the work done by contract.

LOOPHOLE SEEN IN RUM REGULATIONS

Foreign Vessels May Obtain Permits to Bring Liquor Into American Waters For Crews

IF PROVED TO BE NECESSARY

Health Officials Will Have No Alternative to Issuing Permits For Medicinal Purposes

(By United Press)
London, June 5—Premier Stanley Baldwin refused to answer questions regarding the British attitude on the United States Supreme Court ruling on the ships liquor provisions.

This is an unusual procedure because the government usually answers questions of the parliamentarians unless it can plead necessity for secrecy.

Washington, June 5—Vessels of foreign countries whose laws require the issuance of a liquor ration to ship crews, may obtain permits to bring the necessary liquor into American waters if they can convince public health service officials in charge of issuing permits that the liquor is necessary to the crews health. This gaping loophole was discovered by government officials today in the regulations issued by the treasury department for enforcement of the Supreme Court decision banning liquor from ships within the

CONTRACTS FOR TWO ROADS LET

Commissioners Award Havens Road Under County Unit Law to Snider, Hill and Hooten

FIRST OF ITS KIND IN COUNTY

Contract For Leisure Road On Jackson-Posey Line Goes To Lawrence and Ennis

The county board of commissioners awarded two road contracts Monday afternoon, Snider, Hill and Hooten of Mountaintown submitting the lowest bid on the Jess Havens road in Rushville township and Lawrence and Ennis of Arlington being the lowest bidders on the Leisure road on the Posey-Jackson township line.

The auditor was authorized to advertise for bids on a car load of bridge lumber and for three cars of coal for the court house and jail heating plants.

The commissioners authorized the Henry county commissioners to paint the bridge over Flatrock, south of Lewisville, on the county line, and this county will reimburse Henry county. Sam Beaver was appointed superintendent of the Beaver road in Noble township.

The Havens road is the first in the county to be built under the county unit plan. The law provides that any bridge on the road over twenty feet in length shall be let separately. There were two bridges on this road, contracts for which had to be awarded separately.

The successful bidder on the Havens road was awarded the contract for $3,850 and the two bridges will be $2,850 additional. Other bids on the Havens road were: Weintraut Construction company, $45,450 for the road and $3,100 for the bridges; Lawrence and Ennis, $47,549 for the road and $3,130 for the bridges.

The Leisure road contract went to Lawrence and Ennis for $27,450. Hill and Hooten were the only other bidders, their estimate being $27,800.

The Havens road has been pending since before the war, repeated delays having held up the awarding on the contract. When construction prices were so high, it was indefinitely postponed.

ADDRESS BY REV. R. W. SAGE

Rotary Club To Make Pledges For Riley Hospital—Vocal Selections At Luncheon

"We are hating, doubting and suspecting men," said the Rev. R. W. Sage pastor of the First Baptist church, in a short address before the Rotary club today noon, "because they don't happen to be the same color, of the same race or same creed as we, and thus creating a condition that makes it impossible for God to solve our problems for us."

This was the keynote to his talk of fifteen minutes on "Creating Impossibilities."

Three vocal selections by Miss Helen Maury of Los Angeles, Calif., formerly of Rushville, who has been visiting here, added to the pleasure of Rotarians at the regular weekly luncheon. She sang "Homage," "Lo Hear The Gentle Lark," and "The Lilac Tree." Ms. George Hogsett played the piano accompaniment.

Warder Wyatt reported that he and E. J. Knecht had been selected to canvass the Rotary club for the Riley Memorial hospital fund and pledge blanks were distributed among the members of the club, with the understanding that pledges would be made before the next meeting Tuesday noon. NAHOR PILGRIMS TO BE INITIATED

One Of The Biggest Classes Is Expected From All Sections Of The State Thursday

HEJAZZERS TUNING UP

Musicians Will Make Appeal For Donation For New Instruments—Only Large In World Here

A caravan consisting of members of the Rebekah lodges of Knightstown Greensburg, Connerville and other surrounding cities will make the perilous pilgrimage to the birth place of Rebekah conducted by the Pilgrims of Nahor at the Odd Fellows Temple in this city Thursday evening. Great interest is being manifested in this meeting and all parts of the state will be represented, while the class will probably be one of the largest ever "taken in".

New equipment has been added to facilitate the journey and rehearsals are being held assuring the candidates that they will have no cause of complaint on the degree staff work.

The Hejazzers of Nahor, an oriental band, will provide music and enliven the weary pilgrims during the progress of the degree.

The Pilgrims of Nahor is a purely local organization its members being recruited from the Rebekah lodges of the state, and it is the only lodge of the order in the world. Its reputation has extended beyond the boundaries of Indiana and inquiries are received regarding it from all parts of the country but the originators prefer that Rushville shall have the honor of having the only lodge of this order and require all novitiates to receive the degree here and no charters will be issued.

A collection will be taken to equip the Hejazzers with new instruments in anticipation of attendance at the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the World next fall and as usual the most generous will receive the decoration of the Knights of L'Eman.

The roll call of the Nimrods, which is required at every meeting will be held and the newly created Nimrods will be conducted to their stations in the lodge.

Refreshments of strawberries, ice-cream and cake will be served during the work. Plans for a picnic for the order will be discussed and committees appointed.

TAX PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

Walter Bridges Of State Tax Board Meets With Board Of Review

Walter Bridges of Indianapolis, a deputy of the state board of tax commissioners, met with the Rush county board of review today and discussed problems coming before the board, which convened in annual session Monday and will hold daily meetings at the auditor's office in the court house until Saturday, June 30.

Mr. Bridges meets with boards all over this section of the state and represents the state board in dealing with the questions of equalization of assessments and other matters. The local board today planned to take up the assessments of several domestic corporations that come under the board's jurisdiction.

MASONIC SPECIAL IS WRECKED AND 5 KILLED

Thirty Others Injured, Ten Seriously On Way To Michigan Knights Templar Convention

CAUSE IS NOT DETERMINED

(By United Press)

Durant, Mich., June 5.—Five were killed and thirty injured, ten seriously, when a special train carrying 200 Masons to a state Knights Templar convention at Flint was wrecked near here at noon.

The injured were being rushed to hospitals in Oswego and Flint in emergency ambulances. Doctors and nurses from these two places were rushed here by automobile to aid in caring for the injured.

The death list may mount in the next few hours by deaths of those seriously hurt, doctors said. Cause of the wreck has not been established definitely. The engine jumped the rails and three coaches and the engine were overturned. Expansion of the rails as a result of the heat might have caused the wreck, railroad officials said.

The train left Grand Rapids early today with eighty Knights Templar members and picked up delegations to the Flint convention at intermediate points. The train was within fifty miles of its destination at the time of the wreck.

TRUSTEES VOTE TO ASK FOR THE HONOR

Rush County Board of Education Unanimous In Petition to State Superintendent Burris

WANTS TO TRY EXPERIMENT

Johnson County Active Contestant to be Designated—Arguments in Favor of Rush County

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 5.—Nearly a dozen Indiana counties have asked Benjamin J. Burris, state superintendent of public instruction for preference in apportionment of the $52,000 endowment fund of the general education board for demonstration of a new plan of county education, Burris said today. Among the counties seeking the fund are Rush, Hendricks, Grant, Johnson and Lagrange. Twelve thousand dollars of the amount is for the establishment of a building division of the state educational system.

The Rush county board of education, composed of the twelve township trustees of the county, voted unanimously Monday afternoon, at their regular June meeting, to petition Benjamin J. Burris, state superintendent of public instruction, to designate Rush county as one of the two counties in Indiana to receive funds from the Rockefeller Foundation general education board to conduct experiments in rural school work during the next two years.

Lagrange county has already been practically selected to represent the northern half of the state, it is said, and it is the desire of the state school authorities to select the second county from those near Marion county so that the experiment may be observed closely.

Today's newspaper dispatches indicate that Johnson county trustees took the same action as the Rush county trustees at their June meeting Monday and will put up an active fight for the honor.

Mr. Burris attended the Johnson county meeting and discussed the plans for the proposed experiment with the trustees, but left before they discussed the project and voted upon it.

The Indianapolis Star this morning quoted the state superintendent as saying that Johnson and Lagrange counties would most likely be designated for the experiment, but Rush county is counting on making its claims to the honor very impressive.

Birney D. Farthing, county superintendent of schools went to Indianapolis today to notify the state superintendent. Continued on Page Three

WOMAN REMAINS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Mrs. Scott, Raleigh Accident Victim, Shows Little Change, And Condition Is Grave

OTHER WOMEN RECOVERING

Mrs. Margaret Scott, age 66 years, the woman who was injured Sunday night when struck by a machine driven by Herbert Jackson of near Spiceland, in front of the church at Raleigh was still in a most serious condition today, according to Dr. C. L. Smallen, the attending physician.

Mrs. Scott in some way appeared to show slight improvement, he said, and she was beginning to talk more rationally. In other ways her condition seemed grave, and it may take several days before the crisis is reached.

Jackson, who was arrested Monday morning on a charge of disturbing a religious meeting, and who is held on $100 bond, will not be tried on the case until the outcome of Mrs. Scott is definite.

Mrs. Charles Mohler and her daughter Mrs. Donald Foster, the other two women who were hit by the same machine, were reported to be recovering today from the bruises and injuries. Mrs. Mohler suffered a fracture of a hip, which will compel her to be bedfast for sometime.

MEN CREATING THE IMPOSSIBLE

scriptions will count in the county total as well as in the amount that the Rotary clubs of the state are raising for the hospital.

The Rev. Mr. Sage stated that many things could be made impossible especially for God, even though the idea prevails that God can do all things.

"It seems a preposterous thing when we remember that God created the universe," he continued. "Whether he created it in a day or a month, I do not know. All I know is that he created it."

"There are also some things that are impossible for God to do aside from the impossibilities that we create for him. God can't cheat, or lie, or steal. And when we distrust, hate and suspicion men for some reason or other, we are making it impossible for God to be of any service to us."

"When one group of men refuse to give a full day's work for a full day's pay and when another group of men refuse to pay a fair wage for a fair day's work, we are setting up conditions which make it impossible for God to bring about any solution for us."

"Distrust, suspicion and hatred never were the solution of anything." His closing thought was that as long as men continue to hate and distrust one another, God can never stop war; that not until men begin to have confidence in one another and see each other's viewpoint, will the possibility of war be removed.

He said that men could create impossibilities in their own communities, in their churches and in other organizations by their indifference.

intendant of the action of the Rush county board of education and learn whether the report that he had definitely selected Johnson county were true. In the event that this is the case, Rush county, of course, would not waste any further effort in trying to land the plum.

It was pointed out at the meeting of the trustees here yesterday afternoon that the experiment in rural school supervision, with centralization as the moving idea of the scheme should be tried in a county where there was opposition to the new school theories, rather than in a county where there is a college and where the improved method of school administration are already accepted as being the best.

This was the argument used by some trustees Monday in winning over one or two members of the board who were reluctant about asking that the experiment be tried out here. Those in favor of giving the new theories a trial in Rush county asserted that their application here would be the best test possible of their worthiness, because there had been considerable opposition locally to the proposed county unit system of school administration when it was before the last session of the Indiana legislature.

Rush county people who want to see Rush county designated for the experiment are confident that they will have the support of W. E. Waggoner, former county superintendent of schools, who is now assistant state high school inspector, and who would like to see Rush county selected as one of the counties in which the experiment will be tried.

Kellogg's Bran is Guaranteed to give relief BECAUSE IT IS ALL BRAN!

Relief from constipation, whether it be mild or chronic, will follow the regular, every-day eating of Kellogg's Bran. We have thousands of letters from former sufferers who tell us that the natural "bulk-action" of this wonderful cereal product has given relief they have not known for years. We guarantee that Kellogg's Bran will free the system from constipation because it is ALL BRAN—not a composition in which bran is added. If constipation is to be permanently relieved, you must eat ALL BRAN—that's why your physician will recommend Kellogg's for constipation.

Constipation creates toxic conditions which poison the blood and every organ of the body. It slows you down mentally and physically, and creates sick headaches, nausea, bad breath, pimples—finally, in many cases, leading to Bright's disease, diabetes and other dreaded illnesses. You must fight constipation with Kellogg's Bran regularly if you want health!

You'll say Kellogg's Bran is really delicious—it has a nut-like flavor that appeals to the most fastidious appetite. Eat it as a cereal, sprinkled on hot or cold cereals or cooked with hot cereals, allowing two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. Be certain to eat at least two tablespoonfuls each day; as much with each meal in chronic cases. Kellogg's is delicious made into muffins, macaroons, raisin bread, griddle cakes. Recipes in every package. Kellogg's Bran is served by leading hotels, clubs and restaurants in individual packages. It is sold by all grocers.

HOW TO RECEIVE:—Whatever we ask, we receive of Him, because we keep His commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in His sight.—1 John 3: 22.

Keeping Well in Summer

"What one should do to keep well in the summer," says Surgeon General H. S. Cumming, of the U. S. Public Health Service, "depends on what one has been doing during the winter." As winter occupations are infinitely varied it may seem at first blush that this dictum calls for equally varied summer programs. However, most occupations fall into certain groups which call for corresponding vacations.

For instance, most men and an increasing number of women work hard all winter and take a vacation when summer comes. On the other hand, large groups of men and women (farmers, for instance) work hard all winter and take a vacation if they ever get one, in the winter, when farm work is slack. Most women work hard in their own homes, and they too have earned a vacation, though their right to it is not always acknowledged. Some men and women appear not to work at all and would probably be very angry if any one accused them of working. These also need a vacation, but very few of them get a real one.

A vacation should mean very different things to these different classes. A clerk, for instance, should do something that would make him use his muscles (though not to excess) and an iron mill worker something that would enable him to rest his. A girl who has been typewriting or cooking in somebody else's home should use her vacation in outdoor sports such as playing tennis or something like that. A tired wife and mother should rest by getting away from husband and children, soothing her nerves by chatting with other women, and having a few moments of genuine privacy. A society girl who really worries about as hard as anybody in the service of the goddess of pleasure and is probably (temporarily, at least) sick of fests and men and other girls, would do well to attend a Summer Normal school, where she would at least get a brand-new outlook on life—unless she has courage enough to get a job in a factory, where, if she were not too haughty, some "factory girl" might take pity on her and teach her the ropes.

The usual prescription for a vacation is exercise in the open air. Such advice assumes that exercises in the open is the one important thing that most workers do not get. This is, of course, true in regard to many persons, but it is not true in regard to many others—farmers, street cleaners, and chauffeurs, for instance. Anybody who has been spending his or her winter evenings in stuffy rooms studying, playing cards, dancing, or just nodding, should by all means, get out into the open air in the summer. A truck driver, on the other hand, might well spend his vacation indoors.

Exercise, particularly, in the open air, is valuable, and, indeed essential to continued good health. Exercise, however, looks chiefly to physical and ignores mental health; and mental health is now considered to be about as important as physical health.

Millions of persons, women in particular perhaps, need a "change" rather than a "rest."

BEER NOW MOVING TOWARD NEW YORK

Large Quantities of Canadian Beer And Liquor is Lining up at Border, Ready for Entrance.

SMUGGLING BEGINS ALSO

Ottawa, Ont., June 5—Large cargoes of Canadian beer and liquor are moving toward the international boundary on their way to New York state as a result of the repeal of the prohibition enforcement law there.

Prohibition officials stationed along the border said that rum runners were now active with plans to flood New York with dominion "hard stuff."

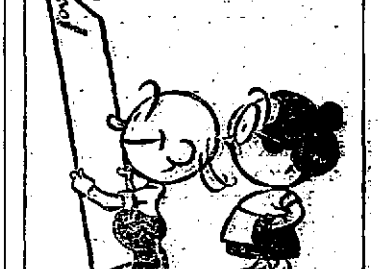

With the coming of summer weather, the liquor smuggling trade is beginning to boom any way, following the winter shutdown. Repeal of the enforcement law has brought new blood and new capital into the "game", and, according to the present outlook, unprecedented quantities of illegal beverages will soon be flowing south.

Attorney Ranaway announced that no new steps would be taken by the prohibition department to cope with the situation.

There are several well established rum running routes which cross the border at points where there are no customs or immigration inspectors. These will be used, and additional ones will be established.

Most of the liquor smuggling is done with motor trucks. These motors, loaded to capacity with case goods, cross the line at a terrific rate of speed, armed guards clinging to them ready to do battle with revenue officers of "high packers", the highwaymen who make a business of robbing bootleggers.

Through the Alleghenies
The Pennsylvania Railroad System carries annually seventeen per cent of the total passenger traffic and twelve per cent of the total freight traffic of America.

RAILROAD engineers many years ago conquered the mighty mountains of Western Pennsylvania. With splendid vision and indefatigable effort they overcame the obstacles placed there by Nature and built with consummate skill the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Through forest and gorge, over hill and mountain and stream, those transportation pioneers conceived and ultimately developed a railroad of low grades and carefully wrought tangents which stands today as a monument to their genius—the shortest line between the west and the east.

Though the Alleghenies have thus been penetrated by the greatest highway of commerce in the world their matchless natural beauties remain unchanged and eternal—an unending source of inspiration and delight to all those who pass by.

The Packaddle, Alleghippus Gorge, the Horseshoe Curve, Lewistown Narrows and the Gaps of the Susquehanna are all points of special interest in a great galaxy of mountain views of unexampled charm and splendor.

"Gold Diggers" in Ring

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 5.—If the old business war cry of "Patronize Home Industries First" can be applied to boxing, American promoters ought to let the prize products of Europe remain on the market on the other side.

It may be good business to inject the foreign element in the domestic affairs of the American ring, but it is certainly not doing the right thing by the home boys who ought to get first consideration.

The case of Mike McTigue is a good one on which to argue the point.

Mike was almost a "ham" when he was fighting around here several years ago. He proved the class of American boxing when he went back to Europe and was handed the world's light heavyweight championship—poor as he was known to be.

McTigue then became a "card" in this country for the simple reason that any title holder is a "card". But instead of matching him up with any number of good boys, he was signed to meet Carpenter.

The "Gorgeous Georges" has nothing to qualify him for such favoritism from American promoters. He owes America everything and America owes him nothing. He is through as a fighter and the boxing commission would be only acting fairly and in the interests of the constituents that it is supposed to protect if it would not allow Carpenter to box in a championship fight here until he has proved his right by beating some of the other American contenders.

American boxers get no sympathy and very little consideration in Europe. They are looked upon over there as greedy wolves who are after nothing but the money. Americans might consider European boxers who come over here from the same view point, only they are more mercenary.

Eugene Criqui had no right to a contest with Johnny Kilbane when there are several American boys who have been trying to get a crack at Kilbane for three years.

Jimmy Wilde had no right to come over from England and grab a purse from Pancho Villa when Little Frankie Genaro, who has beaten Villa three times, is forced to sit by idly and watch his chance slip.

Carpenter hasn't any right to fight Benny Leonard until he proves that he is better than a lightweight. Joe Beckett will be over here before long and a lot of other European hams.

The "air" is all that any of them is entitled to.

What is declared by experts to be one of the finest human interest stories ever filmed, comes to the Mystic theatre again today.

It is a "Tittle-Waller" production, and is the first of a series of four pictures to be presented by The Film Guild. The story is by Frank Tittle and is laid in the quaint New England town of Spelt's River. The story starts with the home-coming of Herbert Bradley who has been away to college. Herbert is the idol of the family and lords it over Jim his brother, who is regarded as considerably inferior to the magnificent Herbert. Polly Crawford, however, sees the real worth and character beneath Jim's rough exterior. In order to win Polly Jim finally overcomes his handicap and turns the tables on Herbert makes a tense and gripping picture.

Glenn Hunter, who has made such a tremendous success in motion pictures and who is now starring on Broadway in "Merton of the Movies," plays the role of Jim Bradley. Mary Astor is a sweet and lovable heroine in the character of Polly Crawford. The balance of the cast is made up of such prominent names as Townsend Martin, William Nally, Leslie Stowe, and Otto Lang.

At The Princess Again Today
"Rose of the Sea," First National attraction that opened a run yesterday at the Princess Theatre, justifies all the laudatory things that have been written about Anita Stewart, the star and Fred Nibbs, the director. It will be seen again today.

The plot covers quite a bit of territory but it is a tribute to the players and director that the continuity remains unbroken; and if the story of a working girl has been the central figure in plots before, the adapters of this scenario have given it some unique twists that make it distinctive. One distinctive thing is quite apart from the story. Rudolph Cameron plays the leading man opposite his wife. He is quite as handsome as ever and his capable acting makes one wonder why he has been absent from the screen so long. In the course of the picture he makes arduous love to his wife—Rose of the Sea—and is rejected. That is sufficient for any picture.

Rose Eton is a homeless waif, the sole survivor of a wreck at sea. When the old salt who cared for her dies, she goes to New York and finds a position as saleslady in a florist shop. She attracts the attention of Elliott Schuyler and as the result of an accident comes to the notice of Peter, Elliott's father and a tyro of Knickerbocker conventionality. He sees in this unsophisticated girl an opportunity to win his son back from the Broadway lights and arranges to have them together at a house party. Plans go awry. Rose is found in another man's room under circumstances that admit no explanation until the truth comes to Peter with a realization that reveals something of his own soul to him. To tell the conclusion would spoil a just measure of anticipation.

John L. Lewis Calls United Mine Workers at Indianapolis

Springfield, Ill., June 5.—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine workers of America who is here spending a few days with his family has called a meeting of the national executive board June 13 in Indianapolis.

Judge Alton B. Baker, former democratic candidate for president, and Charles Evans Hughes, secretary of state, have been engaged as counsel by the miners for the second Coronado trial, Lewis declared.

The coal operators were given $600,000 damages against the miners in the first trial but the supreme court remanded the case for a new trial.

WISCONSIN LIQUOR FIGHT

Dry Forces Seeking to Capture "Mild Wets" in Legislature

Madison, Wis., June 5.—Twenty-five anti-prohibition members of the Wisconsin legislature are campaigning to capture forty votes of the "mild wets" to pass the Tucker bill to repeal the state prohibition enforcement law.

Thomas Duncan, Milwaukee socialist leader, and Sexton Lindh, floor whip for the wets today predicted that the assembly would approve the repealer as it has approved a series of mild prohibition measures all of which met defeat in the senate.

Governor Blaine is silent as to his opinion on New York's law. The socialist who forced through the assembly the bill to abolish the Wisconsin national guard, will take the offensive.

Rutenberg's bond was set at $10,000. He was arrested with William Z. Foster, liberal labor leader and others in the Bridgman Michigan communist convention. Several months ago a jury that tried Foster disagreed.

Mrs. Butler's Aches and Pains

Vanished After Using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

W. Philadelphia, Pa.—"When I cleaned house last April I must have overworked myself, for after that I had pains and aches all the time and was so discouraged. I could hardly do my own housework, and I could not carry a basket of groceries from the store nor walk even four or five squares without getting terrible pains in my back and abdomen and lower limbs. I went to visit a friend in Mt. Holly, N. J., and she said, 'Mrs. Butler, why don't you take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' My husband said that if it did her so much good for the same trouble, I should try it. So I have taken it and it is doing me good. Whenever I feel heavy or bad, it puts me right on my feet again. I am able to do my work with pleasure and am getting strong and stout. I still take the Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and am using Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash."—Mrs. CHARLES BUTLER, 1233 S. Hanson St., W. Phila., Pa.

HARDING WELCOMES BROTHER SHRINERS

Shrine Conclave Parade Passes in Review Before President—Many Heat Prostrations

GREATEST CIVILIAN PARADE

Washington, June 5—Noble Warren G. Harding, dropping his official role as president of the United States, welcomed his brother Shriners today as they marched past him in the greatest civilian parade the capitol has ever witnessed, opening the Shrine conclave.

A little later, the president made his welcome still more personal by sitting in the first meeting of the Imperial Council.

Representatives from nearly every temple in the country, garbed in their gay, flashing costumes, returned the welcome of the president as they marched past the stand before the White House, where he and Mrs. Harding sat, overlooking the Garden of Allah, with its towering Egyptian columns.

Forty heat prostrations among Shriner marchers occurred here before half of the parade had passed the presidential reviewing stand.

A hoiling sun wilted the marchers as they toiled up Pennsylvania avenue, Red Cross and hospital ambulances took thirty-two to hospitals while eight others were given treatment in drug stores along the line of march.

Scores of spectators were affected by the heat as the temperature mounted to ninety degrees. Shrine officials and police estimated that hundreds of spectators crowded together in thick ranks along Pennsylvania avenue, had fainted.

WILL NOT BE REMOVED BEFORE 12 TONIGHT

Three Miners Still Imprisoned at Bottom of New Mine Shaft Near Bicknell, Ind.

EXCAVATORS WORK ALL NIGHT

Bicknell, Ind., June 5.—It may be midnight tonight, and probably later before the rescue workers will be able to reach the three men imprisoned at the bottom of the New Mine shaft near here, according to the foreman in charge of the rescue workers.

The excavators worked all night, and there were still nine or ten feet of carfin and twisted timbers in the bottom of the shaft when relief shifts took up work this morning.

In the past 24 hours not more than 5 feet of the debris and dirt have been removed from the shaft. Constant danger of a further cave-in and the heat of yesterday slowed up the work of rescue work and prevented realization of hopes that the men would be liberated last evening.

The three men in the mine were in good spirits this morning despite their seventy hours of imprisonment.

They are being fed hot food and hot drinks in containers of the mine rescue party which are lowered through a two inch pipe.

Shelled corn is being dropped through the same pipe for a mule which was imprisoned with the three miners.

Great crowds are visiting the mine night and day.

DEMOCRATIC GAIN

Des Moines, Ia., June 5.—Judge Hiram K. Evans defeated D. P. Daughton, democrat, in yesterday's special election to elect a successor to Congressman Towner. With thirty-three precincts missing, the vote was Evans, 13, 635; Daughton, 12, 100. This reflected a strong gain in the usually "rocked ribbed" republican district, however.

FEEDING DISPLAY PROVES VALUABLE

County Agent Has Interesting Exhibit at His Office to Show Purdue
Feeding Tests

COMPARISONS ARE MADE

Is The Third One of Its Kind to Have Been Placed There Showing
Methods of Hog Feeding

A most interesting display is to be seen in the county agent's office which shows graphically the results obtained by Purdue in the feeding trials comparing various protein supplements for hog feeding. The display shows that feeding skim milk, soybeans, tankage, clover or alfalfa pasture with corn to growing and fattening hogs, when compared with corn alone, saves feed, time and money. A ration of corn alone under present conditions is fed at a loss.

The pigs used in this feeding trial were of average quality and weighed an average of 100 lbs. at the beginning of the feeding period. At the end of 70 days the shoats that received soy beans and mineral gained an average of 130 pounds per head; those that got corn and tankage 125 lbs.; the corn and soy bean lot 99 pounds and the corn alone lot only 52 pounds.

The feeding experiment showed that 100 pounds of tankage, which cost about $3.50, saved 10 to 12 bushels of corn, worth at present market price $8.00 to $9.60. One hundred pounds of soy beans and 10 pounds of mineral saved from $5.60 to $7.20 worth of corn. Soy beans fed without the mineral saved $4.50

SUMMER MEET AT BEDFORD

Indiana Horticultural Society to Hold Annual Meeting Aug. 8 and 9

It is the practice of the Indiana Horticultural Society to get together for an outing each summer, going into some section where there is an opportunity to study fruit conditions and cultural methods. Last year the society held a highly successful meeting in Knox County. This year the meeting will be held at Bedford on August 8 and 9 and will include a tour of the many fine productive orchards of Lawrence and Orange Counties.

The county agents and fruit growers of these counties will give the movement their hearty co-operation and all who attend are assured of a hearty welcome, an instructive program and an opportunity to see some of the finest apple and peach orchards in the state. A program of the meeting will be issued later, which can be obtained by addressing H. H. Swain, secretary, Lafayette, Ind.

LITTERS GIVEN IN TON CONTEST

Thirteen Have Been Nominated By Rush County Farmers For Moos-ier Ton Litter Club

TOUR IS BEING PLANNED

Soy Bean Field Meeting And Ton
Litter Tour Will Take Place
This Fall On Newhouse Farm

Altogether thirteen litters have been nominated in the Hoosier Ton Litter Club in Rush County this year, and the goal of five ton litters at six months of age seems to be assured. The farmers who have nominated litters for the contest are Thomas W. Chambers, R. W. Dawson & Son, Chester A. Meall, Jesse Gray & son, Charlie M. Phillips, Allen T. Blackledge, and Newton Halterman.

When a tour to a number of these farms is made some time during the middle of August, it is expected that a larger number of farmers will avail themselves of the opportunity to visit the farms and see and hear about the methods used in producing the ton litters.

It is planned that this tour will be combined with the large soy bean field meeting which will be held on the farm of S. R. Newhouse. As soy beans and hogs are closely related in this county this meeting should prove of extreme interest to those going on the tour. The visit to the ton-litter farms will likely be made during the morning and end at the Newhouse farm where soy beans, planted alone in rows and drilled solid, and in combination with corn will be inspected. Farmers who have been using soy beans as a supplement to corn in feeding hogs will tell their experience.

There is going to be a material increase in the acreage of soy beans in the county this year and it is estimated that the acreage planted alone for seed and hay will be 1000 acres or more, which is about one-third the county's acreage. A growth from less than 100 acres to over 1000 in three years is proof of the growing popularity of the crop in Rush County.

FARM WILL BECOME MECCA OF BREEDERS

Hankinson Farm in Ohio Was Place
Where First Pedigree of Poland
China Hog Was Written

CELEBRATION SET FOR JUNE 6

The Hankinson farm near Blue Ball, Warren County (Ohio) where the first pedigree of a Poland China hog was written, is destined to become the Mecca of Poland China breeders to which an annual pilgrimage will be made.

In June of last year a monument was erected on the Hankinson farm with great ceremony, to memorialize the establishment of a great breed of swine, and now the Ohio Poland China Breeders' Association has issued a nation-wide call for a celebration on June 9 at the same place.

It is planned to have John Bloss, of Springboro, Ohio, who bred the dam of the first pedigree Poland China, as a guest of honor at the celebration. James O'Brien, for thirty years hog herdsman for the Shakers at Shakerstown, will also be present, as well as many other notables who had much to do in the founding of the only American breed of swine. Live stock breeders of national reputation will address the celebration.

MY TRIP TO THE PURDUE ROUNDUP

By Mildred McMillin

There has been club-work in Union Township for the past two years. The club is known as the Four-H Sewing and Baking Club. The work is interesting and also instructive. The thing toward which we look forward at the end of the work is the trip to the Round-Up at Purdue. The Round-up is for the boys and girls who are in club-work of all the counties of Indiana. Every girl is anxious to go because she has heard what a wonderful trip it is. I will give a brief account of my trip. Our time was all taken while, there trying to follow a program made out for us. Nine happy girls chaperoned by Mrs. Oscar Rees made the trip.

Tuesday

On Tuesday, May 1st, at 10:45 our trip began. We took the train for Indianapolis and changed trains at that place. We reached Lafayette at about 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Upon our arrival there we boarded a street car and went to the Agricultural Building where we had our rooms assigned and we also registered. While there we saw the egg show. We then went to our rooms until 2:30 p. m.

At 2:30 we were at the Agriculture Building ready to take a tour of Lafayette, The Soldiers Home, and Battleground. The business men of Lafayette were supposed to furnish transportation, but only a few responded and the army trucks were used. We were shown through the city of Lafayette and the Soldiers' Home. We saw many interesting things.

At Battleground a brief account of the battle of Tippecanoe was given by one of the History professors of Purdue University. We got back to the Agriculture Building at 5:30 p. m.

That night at 7:00 we went to Open House by the schools of Mechanical, Electrical, Civil, and Chemical Engineering. Among the buildings we visited were the Physics Building, Electrical Engineering laboratories, and Locomotive Laboratories. An interesting feature at the Physics Building was the demonstration by which we could hear the heart beat. An interesting feature at the Electrical Engineering Laboratory was an automatic hen which laid an automatic egg.

Wednesday

In the morning until 8:00 to 10:00 we were at Fowler Hall. The first thing was "The Why and the Wherefore of the Club Round-Up" by the

FARMERS DEMAND WHEAT CERTIFIED

Interest Is Increasing As Shown
By Application For Inspection By Purdue Experts

WHEAT FIELDS ARE GRADED

Must Show At Least 99.5 Percent
Pure To Become Certified—
Seeds Bring Bigger Profit

Lafayette, Ind., June 5.—The interest in better wheat for Indiana conditions is holding its own, as shown by the applications for inspection of wheat for certification that are already being received by W. A. Ostrander of the soils and crops extension staff of Purdue University, a member of the Certification Committee of the Indiana Corn Growers' Association.

A. A. Sheetz, Marshall County, was the first man to get his application in this year. He has had his field inspected and certified two previous years.

"Men find it pays to raise pure bred grain and have it certified as to purity and freedom from disease and sell it at the higher price that such seed always brings," said Mr. Ostrander.

"Those having good fields of grain can have them inspected and if they pass the requirements they will be certified by the Corn Growers' Association."

Wheat fields must be at least 99.5 per cent pure, free from rye, cheat, cockle, or onion. If any of these are in the field, they must be taken out before the inspector arrives. There must be no stinking smut, and less than one-half of one percent of loose smut. It must also be one of the improved varieties. The rules covering this work are in the hands of every county agent in the state and application blanks for certification can be obtained from them or from the Corn Growers' Association at Lafayette.

The certification work started out in a half dozen counties in 1920, and is now in 62 counties of the state. One feature of the work has been the dissemination of the new Michikoff wheat, that is proving itself of such superior quality. This wheat was developed by the agricultural experiment station of Purdue.

FARMERS SAVE 6 MILLION

The Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation has issued an annual report showing its accomplishments for the year. The recapitulation shows that the Farm Bureau saved the farmers of Kentucky a total of $6,916,043 during that time.

NEW ENGLAND IN FAVOR OF PROJECT

Sees Many Benefits to Industrial
Section of Great Lakes-St. Lawrence
Waterway

CONFER WITH FARM BUREAU

Chicago Conference Was Preliminary to Larger Conference to be Held
There in September

New England is not opposed to the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Waterway. New England sees in this development many benefits to the great industrial section.

This point of view was revealed in Chicago on May 24 at a conference between President O. E. Bradfute and Secretary J. W. Coverdale of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and President Charles R. Gow and General Manager Orra L. Stone of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, and President H. C. Gardner, Executive Director Charles P. Craig and John S. Pardee of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association.

The conference was preliminary to a larger conference which will be held in Chicago next September between representatives of the New England groups and the mid-western groups in which sectionalism will be forgotten and an effort made to find a common ground on which farmers and New England industrialists may meet for mutual improvement. It is believed that one of the biggest projects on which they may agree is the early development of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Waterway.

In the Chicago conference President O. E. Bradfute pointed out that transportation rates to the eastern industrial centers have grown to be more than the farm traffic can bear. Mr. Bradfute stated that it was impossible to get the mid-west farmers' products to the eastern consumer and have anything left after paying the freight bill. He said:

"We must develop a cheaper artery of commerce between the mid-west and New England states or else the economics of the situation will force the industrialists to move westward where they will be close to their raw materials and to the ultimate consumers of their finished products. The farmer pays the freight both ways. He must be nearer to the men who eat his grains and make his shoes."

Colonel Gow showed that the development of the St. Lawrence Waterway would mean cheaper wheat in Boston because the transportation could be materially cut. Another great advantage which New England would reap from the waterway development would be the enormous supply of cheap high electric power.

TO FORM MEMBERSHIP CLUB

Livestock Producers Of 3 States
Hold Meeting At Cincinnati

Representative livestock producers of Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana, meeting at Cincinnati, have voted to form a membership association of farmers to sell livestock co-operatively on the terminal market at the city. The men favored the formation of the association under Ohio's new co-operative law, so that operations will not be started until the law takes effect in July.

Those attending the meeting at Cincinnati also named committees of representative livestock men to make a preliminary survey of the market, available livestock for co-operative marketing, and prepare details of the plan of organization. These committees all consist of men living in the three states from which the largest quantity of livestock comes to Cincinnati. The Cincinnati firm will be a member of the family of co-operatives making up the National Live Stock Producers Association.

For New England factories. There is now a 3 percent differentiation against the New England manufacturer who does not have access to cheap electricity. Colonel Gow is in favor of the development of cheap water transportation, not only on the St. Lawrence but also on the Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Illinois and other inland waterways. He explained how the railroads are handicapped because of their inadequate equipment in meeting the peak load. Waterway development will greatly supplement the capacity of the rail carriers.

Mr. Gardner explained how it would cost only about 250 million dollars to build the proposed St. Lawrence ocean-way. Practically all

STATE WILL HOLD FARM FIELD DAYS

Series Of Four Meetings To Be Held At Experiment Farms Arranged For This Week

TO STUDY SOIL TREATMENT

Bedford Meeting Will Be Principal
One With Big County Wide
Picnic At Moses Dunn Farm

Lafayette, Ind., June 5.—A series of four field day meetings to be held at outlying fields and farms operated by the Agricultural Experiment Station of Purdue University, has been arranged for the first week in June. They are North Vernon, June 6; Bedford, June 7; Francisco, June 8; Warthington, June 9.

At each place farmers from the nearby counties will spend the day studying the results of different soil treatments on the clover and wheat crops. Owing to the late season, only little results will be apparent on this year's corn crop but results of previous years will be given. Effect of tile drainage, ground limestone, and fertilizer treatments will be studied at each place. Different variety tests also will be studied at Bedford and Warthington.

The Bedford meeting will be the principal one of the four with a big county-wide picnic there at the Moses Fell Dunn farm, where such striking results have been obtained during the last few years in experimental work. The Lawrence County Farm Bureau is co-operating with the Experiment Station and expects a turnout of 1500 to 2000 people. This will be an all day affair.

Next was a moving picture of the Indiana sand dunes. The man who gave the lecture had taken the pictures and was therefore able to explain each picture fully.

After this was "A Model Club Meeting given by the Brookston Club. The order of events were as follows: 1st. yells; 2nd. roll call; 3rd. Minutes of last Meeting; 4th. Old Business; 5th. New Business and last the various things on the program.

From Fowler Hall we went to the Home Economics Building. Here we attended two lectures. One was on "Making An Invalid Comfortable" by Miss Laura Partch. We learned much from this lecture. She told us how to care for the patient's hair and how to fix a tray and many other things.

The other lecture was given by Miss Lucy Wade on "What Shall We Wear?" This was very instructive,

To enjoy good eating one does not have to have a fat pocket-book. You will always find that here the best in foods is to be had at prices considerably below the ordinary retail prices.

You will not be caught unprepared by the unexpected arrival of a guest if you have on hand an assortment of our canned goods. The hot days will soon be here but the housewife need not worry who has in her pantry a variety of deviled and potted meats, soups of many kinds, fruits, jams or jellies.

Many a cake has been spoiled by poor weak spices or flavoring extracts. Every day we are offered spices and extracts at lower prices than we are paying, but we know the brands we sell are good and while we might make a larger profit on each sale, if the goods are not satisfactory it wouldn't be long until we would be missing many sales. We sell such well known brands of extracts as, Fern-dell, Dr. Prices, Burnett's and Souders; in-spices we have Golden Sun and Fern-dell.

Again we say, a bag of LOYALTY Flour at $1.10 is the best flour investment you ever made. We take all the risk; if you don't like it say so and we will refund your money for the entire sack. There are several grades of Kansas flour but know of none better than LOYALTY.

Miss Wade told us the reason we wore clothes was for protection, for modesty, and for ornamentation. One important fact was: The simpler the dress the lovelier it is. It is impossible to give all the good points she gave!

In the afternoon we went to the Demonstration Team Contest. The first team was from Vanderburg County. They demonstrated canning meats. A team from Logansport High School who demonstrated furnishing a girl's bedroom came next. The Miami County girls made the club apron and cap. The Plymouth High School gave a demonstration on the removal of stains. The last was from Kosciusko County. They made parchment paper lamp shades. These girls won the prize.

At night there was music, moving pictures and an address at Fowler Hall. The music consisted of a whistler. He gave several selections and asked the audience to name different kinds of birds which he imitated. The whistler was one of the Purdue students. The pictures were of Purdue University.

An address was given by the State Club Leader, C. M. Smith. L. G. Rettger of Indiana State Normal, also gave a short address.

Thursday

We first went to the Home Economics Building. We heard two lectures in this building. The first was given by Miss Nellie Flamingham, on furnishing a bedroom. One statement she made was this. A room, simply decorated is beautiful.

The next lecture was very interesting. It was given by Miss Helen McKinley. It was not exactly a lecture but a small play. Its name was "Which Girl Are You?" The first act was illustrating the careless girl and the second the careful girl.

The next lecture was held in Coulter Hall. It was given by Miss Amy Bloye. The subject was "Are You Starving Yourself?" She made us see what we should eat and what we should not and many other important things.

Then we went back to the same room in the Home Economics Building. A woman representing Dennison's Crepe Paper Company showed us how to make crepe paper costumes. She distributed slips of paper with directions how to make these costumes.

After dinner we attended a lecture named "Making Attractive Exhibits." This was given by two seniors of Purdue University who were former club girls. This was a very interesting demonstration. The girls gave us many good points on this subject. One was that the exhibits should be separated in classes. This lecture was held at Coulter Hall, also the two following.

The next lecture was short. It was given by Mrs. Virginia Meredith on "Automatic Good Manners." A few good points she gave were: A person with good manners never chews chewing gum in public; a person who has good manners never speaks when others are speaking; and people who have good manners have self-moving good manners as asking to be excused when it is necessary to walk in front of anyone.

A lecture was next given by Professor Mary L. Matthews of "Our New Building." She said the new building was for education. By education we will learn to depend on ourselves, learn to work with others; and learn to appreciate our place in the world.

We were then taken on a tour through the Home Economics Building. It was very interesting to see where the girls worked and what they worked with.

At 5:30 we attended the picnic supper held at the Purdue Grove. We had secured our tickets at the registration desk. The Purdue Grove was situated beyond the farm. There was a large crowd at the picnic.

That night was Stunt Night. The first thing was an organ prelude. Next was greetings by President Elliott. Then came the stunts. The stunt which won the prize was given by the girls of Evansville. The name of it was a "Day in Camp." There were several more, but I will not describe them. Then the different counties gave their yells and we sang some songs such as "Old McDonald."

Friday

At 8 o'clock that morning we went to hear the awarding of prizes. This lasted until 11 o'clock. We then walked around the campus for awhile.

In the afternoon we went to the Purdue farm. We ask a student to direct us to the farm and he showed us around.

About three o'clock we went to the Armory and watched them drill. We then went to our rooms.

We all walked across to Lafayette and ate supper at a cafeteria there. After supper we went to a show. We rode home on a car.

NEED FOR MINERALS IN HOG RATIONS SHOWN

Owing to the fact that the soil in this country has been cultivated so long that it is more or less impoverished, and also to the fact that the hog's food is chiefly corn, which is extremely poor in minerals, there is a mineral deficiency in the average hog's ration in practically all parts of the country. It is safe to say that 90 percent of the animals being fed the ordinary feed stuffs are receiving a deficient quantity of mineral matter.

Grass, especially clover and alfalfa, carry more minerals than corn yet we rarely find hogs running on these pastures that are not rooting to some extent. These hogs in nearly all cases stop their rooting after having had access to a mineral mixture for a short period.

It is unwise to rely on the grains and grasses to supply the mineral needs of the hog. It is a known fact that poverty of the soil will effect the mineral content of the feed. If the soil is poor in minerals the crop will be correspondingly poor in minerals. Such feeds necessarily limit the growth and development of animals. Furthermore, the mineral content of plants on the same soil varies greatly from one season to another. This is due to the difference in moisture, which controls the capacity of plants to extract minerals from the soil.

It is probable there is not a single hog ration which supplies through food alone a sufficient amount of the necessary minerals required to get the best results. We believe that it is absolutely necessary to supply separately the mineral substances needed if the hogs are to do their best. Leading authorities are unanimously agreed upon the hogs' need for minerals.

You get extra growth and extra gain from the use of a mineral mixture if you use it right which you will not get in any other way.

BOYS KEEP BOOKS ON FARM OPERATIONS

The farmers of Jackson township, Randolph County, are interested in solving their farm problems and are, therefore, encouraging their boys to keep records and conduct farm management work on their farms. As a result, 21 boys are keeping records of each farm and planning each farm to the end of finding out whether the present plan of farming is being conducted at a profit or loss and what part of the farm is profit or loss. They are using the Record books prepared by the Farm Management Department of Purdue University.

The display now in the office is the third display of this kind which has been exhibited and, like the other two, is a miniature of the Purdue display at the International Livestock Show at Chicago. Farmers interested in the subject of feeding hogs economically should drop in at the office and study the chart.

MY TRIP TO THE PURDUE ROUND UP

While at the Round-Up I was fortunate enough to get my breakfasts at the house where I roomed. At dinner time we ate at the cafeteria in the Home Economics Building. At supper we ate at different places in the village.

Saturday
About 8 o'clock we went down to Lafayette and looked around. Then we went to our rooms.

At 12:44 our train left for Indianapolis. We arrived there about 3 o'clock. At Indianapolis we could not make connections so had to take an interurban for Rushville. When we got to the terminal station, the car bound for Rushville had just gone and we had to wait until 4:45 for another car. We hadn't eaten any dinner so we got us a lunch at the station.

Finally our car arrived and we were on our way to Rushville and home. We arrived home about 6 o'clock. We all had a fine time and all desired to go again next year.

High Quality Fertilizer

Raw materials will be arriving in a week. No product is any better than the quality of materials entering into the finished product. We are buying the very best materials that can be found on the market from old line producers of raw products. It would be very easy to buy cheaper materials, but we are getting nothing but the best sources of plant food and using the latest equipment for making, in order to make:

The Norris High Quality Fertilizer

Why feed your crops with inferior plant foods, when you can get double cured, perfectly balanced, best quality materials and mechanical condition unequaled.

We are not using by-product materials. We have analyzed enough by-products both acidulated and otherwise to know they are inferior carriers of nitrogen.

In our High Quality Fertilizer, you will get graduated nitrogen, which will give the crops the quick early start so essential in late sowed wheat, then the slower acting nitrogen will feed through till harvest time. Richly available phosphoric acid without free acid and water soluble potash. Potash is the cheapest element used in fertilizer now and should be present in every formula in the correct amounts, for we have neglected this element so long on account of its high price.

It will pay you to see us before you buy your fall requirements. Our service and quality will interest you.

Information About the Largest Mineral Mixture Experiment Station

The largest mineral mixture experiment station in the United States is owned by the oldest and largest manufacturer of mineral mixtures in this country—the Moorman Manufacturing Company.

Its origin is the direct result of a firm determination on the part of this Company to manufacture the best Mineral Mixture that scientific and practical knowledge of hog-raising can produce.

The experiment station comprises 100 acres located on a high point about ten miles northeast of Quincy, Ill., on the new concrete State road. The farm is divided into test lots varying in size from 1,000 square feet to several acres. Various buildings are located throughout this area for the purpose of providing quarters for the hogs and making the necessary observations in connection with the experimental work. During the present year, more than one thousand hogs will be used in making Mineral Mixture test on this farm.

These tests are too numerous and technical to be described here, but probably the most interesting of these is the one that is extending over a period of several years—and many generations of hogs—for the purpose of comparing the exact superiority in health and growth of hogs fed MoorMan's Mineral Mixture, over hogs fed no mineral mixture. Fifty pure bred sows were purchased and bred for this particular experiment. The sows in each series of tests are sisters and bred to the same boar, three boars being used.

More than 1,000 sheep and 100 head of cattle will be under test this year to determine various questions relating to the feeding of minerals for the maintenance of health and growth. Extensive experimental work with poultry will also be conducted.

You can depend upon the formula used in the manufacture of MoorMan's Mineral Mixture as being the very best. It is the last word in mineral mixture perfection.

MoorMan's Mineral Mixture also meets every requirement of the most rigid specification as to quality and grade of ingredients used. Every ingredient is tested in our factory laboratory and the latest type of machinery is used to insure a perfectly uniform mixture.

It is the combination of first-class ingredients and methods in the manufacture of MoorMan's Mineral Mixture, that makes it the best profit-producing preparation, per dollar invested, that you can feed to your hogs.

Because of our large volume of business, which will amount to about forty million pounds this year, 1923, we are able to sell MoorMan Mineral Mixture, at a moderate price. For your supply, see the MoorMan Man.
